

Washington, DC Internship Housing

Housing Options for Students Interested in DC Internships

Last Updated 12/03

George Washington University Summer Housing

Summer & Conference Housing
2350 H Street, NW
Washington, DC 20052
(202) 994-6720 sumhouse@gwu.edu

We are pleased that you are interested in summer housing on our campus. The George Washington University has been providing summer accommodations for interns for 30 years, offering both a convenient location for exploring and enjoying Washington D.C., and easy access to your place of work. We are located in the heart of the Nation's Capital, and are a quick walk or metro ride from all major monuments, museums, and historical attractions that make Washington D.C. unique! Please visit us online at http://gwired.gwu.edu/cllc/index.gw/Site_ID/17/Page_ID/269/ to read about our individual intern or group intern housing.

International Student House

1825 R Street, NW
Washington, DC 20515
(202) 232-4007 info@ishdc.org

We at the International Student House are looking forward to welcoming you to a community of nearly 100 graduate students, scholars, interns, and researchers in a warm, homelike multicultural atmosphere representative of at least thirty countries at any given time. Residents at the International Student House attend most of the universities in Washington, are doing internships at some of Washington's premier institutions, embassies, organizations, and businesses, or are here on prolonged research or teaching assignments. You will have a chance to share with them a commitment to international understanding and the exploration of varying viewpoints, hallmarks that have made the International Student House Washington's premier international residence since our founding in 1936.

At the International Student House, you will be living with people from a variety of political, religious, and cultural backgrounds. We hope that at the International Student House you will participate in our programs and become involved in the activities of the House, many of which are shaped and developed by the residents, such as our country nights, international meals, and cultural programs.

Please visit us online at <http://www.ishdc.org> to read more.

Adams Inn

1744 Lanier Place, NW
Washington, DC 20009
(202) 745-3600

Adams Inn provides daily and weekly rates for single and shared rooms. Each guest room has a unique décor. Some rooms have a private bath, and others have a wash basin in the room and a shared bath down the hall. All rooms are air-conditioned. Adams Inn is located two miles north of the White House and in close proximity from the National Zoo. It is served by the Woodley Park Zoo Metro station on the red line. Adams Inn has 14 rooms with private baths and 11 rooms with shared bath. Rates are $40-$95 daily or $220 weekly for room with shared bath.

Thompson-Markward Hall

Young Women's Christian Home
235 Second Street, NE
Washington, DC 20002
(202) 546-3255

Community living is a quirky---and considerably more expensive---alternative to regular housing options. However, these arrangements often provide both room and board (2 daily meals), which account for some of their higher cost. Thompson-Markward Hall is located 4 blocks from Union Station near C St., across from the Hart Senate office building. Metro: Union Station or Capitol South. Women ages 18-34 only. 112 dorm-like singles and 4 doubles line the old but clean hallways. Small bedrooms have A/C and phones (personal extensions); communal baths are large and clean. Laundry room. Weekly maid service provided. Bring your own sheets. Breakfast and dinner served cafeteria-style in a pleasant dining hall. First floor common areas are elegant and spacious, including a piano, library, and garden. TV lounge in the basement has cable, VCR, and couches. Indoor bike storage. Men are not allowed beyond the lobby. No alcohol, cooking appliances, or smoking inside building. Make summer reservations by early Mar. Non-refundable $50 deposit (credited to rent) required with reservation. 2-week minimum stay, 2-year maximum. $147 per week, $650 per month.

The Catholic University of America

Conferences & Event Planning Office
620 Michigan Avenue
Washington, DC 20064
On-Campus Housing (202) 319-5615
Off-Campus Housing (202) 319-5680 cua-summer@cua.edu

Thank you for your interest in staying with us at The Catholic University of America! We are here to provide you with comfortable housing, excellent dining opportunities and a friendly atmosphere. Catholic University provides housing for individuals who are in Washington, D.C., for educational purposes - internships, research and educational study. Please visit us online at <http://conferences.cua.edu/summer/intro.cfm>, you will find information to help you choose the best summer housing options for you. After we receive your application, we will send you additional, detailed information about your stay at Catholic University.

Boston University Washington Center

2807 Connecticut Ave NW, Suite 114
Washington, DC
(202) 756-7800 budc@bu.edu

Metro: Woodley Park/Zoo. Located in the safe and friendly Woodley Park district in Northwest Washington DC, the elegant brick building of the Boston University Washington Center is home to Boston University's Washington Internship and Journalism Programs during the academic year. During summers, it opens its excellent facilities to all summer interns to enjoy. The building includes laundry facilities, a library/study lounge and a well-equipped computer center. The housing consists of three-bedroom apartments equipped with A/C, cable TV, two bathrooms, common area and a kitchen complete with silverware, dishes, cooking utensils and pots and pans. Floors are carpeted. Apartments house six residents. Minimum stay of 8 weeks required. Non-refundable deposit of $300 required in order to secure housing. Available late May-early Aug. $27 per night; limited number of singles are available at $35; not all requests for singles can be honored.

Howard University Summer Housing

2401 Fourth Street, NW #19
Washington, DC 20059
(202) 806-5661 jcoleman@howard.edu
On-Campus Housing (202) 806-9539
Off-Campus Housing (202) 806-9539

If you are planning an internship in the area, you qualify to participate in our Summer Housing Program. If you are planning an internship with a government agency or other office in the DC area or will be doing research during the summer, you qualify for our summer housing program. However, your participation in the Summer Housing Program is based on the submission and approval of your application and space availability. For a list of available forms, please see the links at http://www.howard.edu/howardlife/residence/summer_conference_and_group_hous.htm for more information.

Hostelling International-Washington DC

Washington International AYH-Hostel
1009 11th Street, NW
Washington, DC 20001
(202) 737-2333 reserve@hiwashingtondc.org

Hostelling International-Washington DC provides safe, clean, and affordable ($20-29 per day) dormitory style housing for travelers year round. In addition, the hostel provides a number of quad rooms for individuals pursuing internships, research or study programs in the Washington area. Rates are all inclusive; no additional tax or utility charges apply. The facilities include a large kitchen and dining room, common rooms or reading and conversation, and laundry machines and bicycle storage in the basement. A breakfast and souvenir shop is located on the lobby level. Bathrooms and showers are shared, and are located on each floor. More information is available online at <http://www.hiwashingtondc.org/> for your information.

Washington Intern Student Housing (WISH)

305 Massachusetts Avenue NE
Washington, DC 20002
(202) 548-2720 interns@internsdc.com

WISH housing is found at a number of Capitol Hill locations that make it easy for students to access the excitement and charm of life in Washington, DC. Two basic living arrangements exist:

- Apartments accommodate two to six interns and have single, double, or triple bedrooms
- Town homes or row houses offer shared or private rooms and shared common spaces

Other Housing Options

American University Housing Service
4400 Massachusetts Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20016
On-Campus Housing (202) 885-2599
Off-Campus Housing (202) 885-3270

Galludent University
Office of Summer Programs
800 Florida Avenue NE
Washington, DC 20002-3695
On-Campus Housing (202) 651-6090

Georgetown University
Office of Housing and Conference Services
37th & O Streets NW
100 Harbin Hall
Washington, DC 20057
On-Campus Housing (202) 687-4560
Off-Campus Housing (202) 687-8467

Hostels

Although many of D.C.'s hostels have maximum stay limits, some allow long-term stays. The limit on the length of stay usually hovers between 25 and 30 days. Otherwise, it's always possible to stay at two or three different hostels during your trip.

Some DC area hostels are:

Norwich House
College Park PO Box 283
Washington, DC 20044

Allen Lee Hotel
2224 F Street N.W.
Washington, DC 20037
(202) 331-1224

India House Too DC
300 Carroll Street NW
Washington, DC 20012

Jubilee Hostel
4300 16th Street, NW
Washington, DC 20011
(202) 829-0602
(202) 829-0409
(202) 829-9400

American Guesthouse
1700 Sherwood Hall Lane
Alexandria, VA 22306

American Guesthouse
2005 Columbia Road
Washington, DC 20009
(703) 768-0335

Washington International Student Center
2451 18th Street NW
Washington, DC 20009
(800) 567-4150

Apartments

Unless you're planning on permanently relocating to D.C., subletting an apartment in the District is a smart idea. Newspaper listings often include apartments for rent or sublet, as well as requests for roommates and housesitters. Check the Washington Post (especially F-Su) and the CityPaper (Th). Although the CityPaper is available in print on Thursday, an online version is accessible at www.washingtoncitypaper.com beginning at 3pm on Tuesday. Access the online version as soon as possible, because apartments vanish before the print version of the paper hits the streets. For apartments on Capitol Hill, check out Roll Call (www.rollcall.com) and The Hill (www.hillnews.com). Only a few online apartment-search websites exist for D.C., and some charge a fee. Try www.thesublet.com, www.apartments-in-washington-dc.net, <http://washington-dc-apartments.com>, www.jdpost.com, or www.relocationcentral.com. Roommate services and flyer-laden kiosks also prove helpful. Georgetown University offers a wealth of info on sublets via an on-line database at <http://data.georgetown.edu/admin/auxiliarysrv/och>.

We at the Career Management Center hope this guide assists you in finding housing for your Washington, DC internship or co-op experience!