

Graduate Assistant Workshop

Putting the Library to Work for You

Are you a graduate assistant with questions about many of the tasks you've been assigned? Let the ODU Perry Library help you find the answers! This workshop for graduate research and teaching assistants will cover how to take advantage of important library services, including how to:

- obtain library materials requested by your professor
- obtain materials not owned by the library
- charge copying to the department or faculty grants
- borrow materials in your professor's name
- place materials on course reserves
- contact the library for the help you need

Saturday, August 29, 10-11AM, Perry Library, Room 163

Session repeated on

Wednesday, September 2, 10-11AM, Perry Library, Room 163
