

To Cheat or Not to Cheat : Promoting Academic Integrity on Campus

A Lecture by Dr. Don McCabe

Dr. McCabe is a Professor of Management and Global Business at Rutgers University. Over the last seventeen years he has done extensive research on college cheating, surveying over 165,000 students at more than 160 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada. He has also surveyed over 40,000 high school students in the United States. His work has been published widely in business, education and sociology journals and he is founding president of the Center for Academic Integrity.

What: FREE live speech and webinar plus Q&A !

When:

Date : Tuesday, November 17, 2009

Time : 12:30 - 1:30 PM

Where : You have several options for attending

- Room 222, Gornto Building, Old Dominion University, Norfolk
- ODU TELETECHNET sites
- ODU Higher Education Centers
- Video streaming through your computer

Participants: Faculty, staff, students, guests- all are welcome at no cost

Registration : ccl@odu.edu

Register Now! (video streamers will receive link when you register)

Sponsored by Department of Educational Foundations and Leadership in celebration of American Education Week 2009