

COMMUNITY YOUTH JUSTICE JAM!

Are the juvenile and adult justice systems failing our youth and our communities?

Panel
Discussion

What can we do to change the system?

Poetry
Contest

Join us to find out more!

WHEN & WHERE

Community Youth Justice Jam
Friday, July 24, 1-3 pm
Ruffner Middle School
610 May Ave
Norfolk, VA

Bring your family, friends, and people from your school or faith community. Learn what works — and what doesn't — to help youth in trouble with the law.

PANEL Judge Michelle J. Atkins, Norfolk Juvenile & Domestic Relations Court • Sherri Carr, Norfolk Chief Public Defender Linda Bryant, Norfolk Deputy Commonwealth Attorney Bart Lubow, Annie E. Casey Foundation • R. Dwayne Betts, author Grace Bauer, advocate and community organizer

SPONSORS City of Norfolk • Institute for Community Justice, Old Dominion University • Norfolk JDAI • JustChildren Program of the Legal Aid Justice Center • Families & Allies of Virginia's Youth Norfolk State University

INFO Kate Duvall is the attorney responsible for this flyer. To learn more, participate in the poetry contest, or to have a table at the event, contact her at JustChildren, Legal Aid Justice Center, 123 East Broad Street, Richmond, VA 23219; 434-977-0553, ext. 146 or kate@justice4all.org

This event is sponsored by an independent organization granted selective access to a Norfolk Public Schools facility pursuant to a lease. In granting this access, the School Board and the Administration of the Norfolk Public Schools in no way express or imply their approval, endorsement or sponsorship of this event or the independent organization sponsoring it

DON'T THROW AWAY
the KEY

Food!

Info

