

Workload Proposal

If a full-time faculty member teaches two courses each with enrollments exceeding 75 students (during Fall and Spring of an academic year) without teaching assistant support, that faculty member shall be entitled to a one course workload reduction during that year (i.e. credited for three courses in all). This policy will not apply to distance learning courses. The maximum reduction under this policy is one course per year.

January 26, 2010