For Faculty
Faculty Guide

When users of LiveText register their accounts they become one of three distinct roles. Accounts will become Admin, Faculty or Student accounts. Each of these has different and unique responsibilities and abilities. In this section we will examine the role of the faculty and how their responsibilities differentiate from the Admin and Student Accounts.

The following sections in the Faculty guide discuss and demonstrate how to examine, create and assess assignments. The basic navigation and layout of LiveText accounts for faculty is shown to the users. In each section detailed step by step directions are given for the creation and assessing of assignments that each student will be responsible for submitting.

Assignment Progress Bar

Assignment progress bars are displayed in the Active Assignments area on the Dashboard as well as the course assignment pages. Each progress bar displays the submission status for an assignment including a count of the number of students who have not submitted work, the number of students awaiting assessment, and the number of students who have been assessed. The progress bar is color coded to indicate the submission status for each given assignment.

Note: Users can click the progress bar to view the names of students who are Awaiting Submission, Awaiting Assessment, or assessments that have been Completed.
Awaiting Submission

This bar displays the number of students who have not submitted and/or need to resubmit their assignments.

Awaiting Assessment

This bar displays the number of students who have submitted their assignments but have not been assessed by the instructor.

Completed

This bar displays the number of submissions that have a corresponding final assessment from the instructor.

Note: This bar does not always indicate that the assessments have been published to students. Instructors are able to adjust settings to release assessments to students at the time of assessment, or to publish the assessments to multiple students in the course at the same time.

Best Practice: Giving Students Viewing Rights to Assessments

In many assignments, it is best practice to provide students with a copy of the assessment rubric before they begin their assignment. This provides students with an understanding of the expectations and criteria for assessment. Administrators and instructors may provide assessment rubric(s) by adding it as a Resource in the Assignment Details. However, the shared access of the assessment must be set as a Public URL or shared with individual users or groups.

Option 1: Add the Assessment as a Resource
1. While creating/editing an assignment, scroll down to the Resources area. The Resources area is the final section in the Assignment Details tab.
2. Click the Browse… button in the Insert LiveText Document(s) area.
3. An Insert LiveText Link pop-up window will open.
4. Select a Label (e.g. My Work, Inbox, or a custom label) where the document is listed.
5. Select the checkbox located to the left of each document to be added.
6. Click the Insert button.
7. Click the Save Assignment button.

Option 2: Share the Assessment as a Public URL
1. Click the title of the LiveText document that is to be shared from the Documents tab.
2. Click the Share Document button.
3. Click the Advanced sharing options link located within the Share window.
4. Click the Advanced Options link located in the top right corner of the screen.
5. Select the radio button to the left of Public.
6. Click the Save button.

Note: LiveText users who have experience with the legacy version may be familiar with accessing existing school or university domain templates by clicking the Create button, and/or posting new templates by clicking the More...Create Template link within a document. The New Generation provides instructors and administrators with the ability to post documents as templates within assignments. However, domain templates accessed by users from the Create button can only be created by users with Template Administration Rights.
Milestones

LiveText users who have experience with the assessment process in the legacy version may be familiar with Milestones for tracking student progress and disaggregation during data reporting. For example, a student may be assessed with the same assessment rubric(s) on four lesson plans or case studies within a course or a series of courses. In the legacy version, the instructor may have selected from a pre-established set of Milestones (e.g. Lesson Plan 1, Lesson Plan 2, Lesson Plan 3, Lesson Plan 4) as a way to later track and compare the student’s growth.

In C1, course-based assignments do not use Milestones in the assessment process or data reporting. Each milestone in C1 is identified and organized by assignment. Data can be reported by academic year, term, course, and assignment.

However, Milestones are available to users when they assess non-course-based assignments within the Reviews tab.

One Template, Multiple Assessments

Students may be assessed on a lesson, project, portfolio, etc. multiple times throughout a course or program. Therefore it is not required to include a template for every assignment. For example, students may begin their portfolio from a template in one assignment and will be able to edit and submit their portfolio in future courses and assignments.
Course-Based Assessment

The assessment process begins by selecting a course assignment and selecting the student or group of students to assess. Student submissions may be assessed with one or more rubrics associated with the assignment, and/or may include comments and grades. Instructors may save, submit, or cancel assessments, as well as request the student to resubmit. Grades and assessments may also be published or deleted.

STEP ONE: Select the Assignment and Students to Assess

1. From the Dashboard click the Assignment Progress Bar that corresponds with the assignment to be assessed.

2. The Submission & Grades tab will open. This tab corresponds with the Assignment Progress Bar and displays the names of students identified as: Awaiting Submission, Awaiting Assessment, or assessments that have been Completed.

3. Select the checkbox to the left of each student to be assessed or click on the student’s name to individually assess.

4. Click the Assess Selected Students button.

Note: If you place check marks in the boxes to select students, you must follow step 4 to assess students, by clicking on student’s names without using the check boxes, you automatically are taken to the assessment.
The student submission area will open. The top section within this area displays the Student’s Name, Submission Date (if submitted), Assignment History (if the assignment was previously submitted), the Submission Status (e.g. Awaiting Submission, Awaiting Assessment), as well as options to Save, Request Resubmission, Submit Assessment, or Cancel. This area will also display any student comments and artifacts submitted (e.g. LiveText document, web link, attachment). There are also two tabs displayed below the submission and artifact information: Grade/Comments and Assessment Rubrics (if applicable).

STEP TWO: Add Comments (Optional)

If the submission includes a LiveText document the document, will open automatically with a Table of Contents. Click the page titles within the Table of Contents to review the content and provide optional comments. Instructors may click and open any non-LiveText artifact (e.g. MS Word document, web link). However, the review and comment feature is not applicable to non-LiveText documents.

These divisions may be called ‘terms’, ‘semesters’, ‘quarters’, or ‘trimesters’, depending on the institution and country. Institutions often define their academic terms in their Student Information System (SIS) including specific start and end dates for each term.

Students and faculty will be able to view multiple terms and adjust settings to display a specific term within the Dashboard tab. Faculty will be able to create, manage, edit, and delete course-based items for future terms in the same way they do for the current term.

Student Guide

When users of LiveText register their accounts they take on one of three distinct roles. Accounts will become Admin, Faculty or Student accounts. Each of these has different and unique responsibilities and abilities. In this section we will examine the role of the Student and how their responsibilities differentiate from the Admin and Faculty Accounts.

The following sections in the Student guide discuss and demonstrate how to view assignment details, create a document and submit the assignment.
