STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

The Master of Arts in Applied Sociology is offered by the Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice, Old Dominion University (ODU). The M.A. in Applied Sociology provides students with professional training for employment in federal, state and local government agencies or in private-sector organizations. In addition, the M.A. program provides academic training in the fundamentals of sociology for students wishing to pursue a Ph.D. in the social sciences.

This handbook is designed to specify the requirements and procedures to be followed by faculty and students in the graduate program. All students are responsible for knowing and following the regulations set forth in the Old Dominion University Catalog as well as in this handbook. Any matters not covered in the handbook should be discussed with the Graduate Program Director for appropriate action.

GRADUATE PROGRAM DIRECTOR (GPD)

The Graduate Program Director, a member of the ODU Sociology and Criminal Justice faculty, is responsible for overseeing the administration of the graduate program. The GPD chairs the MA Committee. This committee is responsible for setting policy for the graduate program (which is then carried out by the GPD). Students are free to consult with the GPD on any matter concerning the graduate program. Graduate forms are located at <http://ww2.odu.edu/ao/gradstudies/programs/gpd.shtml>

ADVISING AND REGISTRATION

Throughout the student's graduate study, the student's advisor will be the GPD. This Graduate Program Handbook and the GPD will acquaint the student with the various procedures and requirements necessary for degree completion, as well as assist the student in planning specific course loads and course selections.

All students who have been admitted in either regular or provisional status to graduate degree programs are required to be advised by the GPD. After advising the student, the GPD will release the student's computer registration block thus allowing the student to register with the registrar's office either in person or by using LEO online. In some cases, a signed ODU Registration Form will be required when registering for classes. The ODU Registration Forms may be obtained from the ODU Office of the University Registrar, Graduate Program Director, or other designated graduate faculty representatives. Students should meet with the GPD to discuss the program of study and to schedule appropriate courses in advance of registration whenever possible. Students should consult the Registration Information and Schedule of Classes issued by the Office of the Registrar (and available online) each semester for the most current advising and registration policies.

ODU E-MAIL ACCOUNTS

An active ODU E-mail account is required for all students. To activate your ODU E-mail or to request a forgotten password, go to <http://occs.odu.edu/index.php>. Students are responsible for maintaining their ODU E-mail account; if you use automatic forwarding to another account, you must still check your ODU account regularly to delete spam that may fill the account and interrupt forwarding.

ID CARDS

Student I.D. cards are required for the use of many University services and facilities. All Old Dominion University students who have registered for one or more credit hours may have their I.D. cards made at the Monarch Card Center in Webb Center. Positive proof of identification is required (picture driver's license, military ID, passport, etc.) For more details: <https://csgoldweb.odu.edu/cardcenter/>

LIBRARY SERVICES

The Perry Library offers an array of excellent services to support the research and educational activities of ODU students including online library forms, reserve materials, and interlibrary loans as well as workshops throughout the year to explain library services. The library uses ODU e-mail to notify users of holds, recalls, renewals, fines, fees, and to deliver materials requested through Interlibrary Loan. For more information, see the webpage <http://www.lib.odu.edu> or visit the library.

Your ODU I.D. card also serves as your library card.

PARKING & TRANSPORTATION

All vehicles parked in University parking facilities must display a valid parking permit or be parked at a meter. Students, faculty and staff may purchase permits. Permits may be obtained at the Old Dominion University Parking Services located at 43rd Street and Elkhorn Avenue.

. For more information contact Parking and Transportation services <http://ww2.odu.edu/af/parking/>

CAMPUS SECURITY

The ODU Department of Public Safety offers a Patrol Escort Service and project SAFERIDE. Their telephone number is 683-3477 or you can call from a campus emergency phone or campus call box; for more information <http://ww2.odu.edu/af/police/>. Students are advised to take reasonable precautions when on either campus, especially when taking night classes.

STUDENTS IN GOOD STANDING

Each student must maintain a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0. Each of the core courses must also be completed with a grade of B (3.0) or better. The core courses can be taken a maximum of two times. Students who receive a grade of B- or lower in a core course twice will be dropped from the program. Instructors may issue a grade of "I" for work not completed on time. Incomplete grades must be completed within one semester. Students with more than 6 hours of incompletes will not be allowed to register for courses until the incompletes are resolved.

Students may take courses on a part-time or a full-time basis. Full-time status is 9 credit hours per fall or spring semester. Students must complete all requirements for the M.A. degree within six years of beginning the program. Students who take longer than six years must seek validation for out of date credit (See Validation of Course Credit discussed below). Students must also be enrolled in the semester(s) during which their thesis is approved and they officially graduate. Students who have completed their course work and are actively working on the completion of other program requirements (i.e. thesis, finishing incompletes, etc.) and are using campus facilities and services and/or actively working with faculty must register and pay tuition for one hour of SOC 999.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE MASTER'S DEGREE

The requirements for a Master of Arts degree in Applied Sociology are outlined below. All students must complete these requirements before a degree can be granted. Students must complete a minimum of 36 credit hours in courses numbered 500 or above, with the following conditions and/or exceptions:

- A. Of the 36 credit hours, only nine hours may be in 500 level courses. Students may petition the graduate committee (through the GPD) to waive this requirement if it can be shown that additional 500 level courses will be beneficial to their academic program. If a course was taken at the 400 level, it cannot be repeated at the 500 level for graduate credit.
- B. A student may apply a maximum of 6 hours of graduate level credits from other institutions or programs toward the credit requirements for the M.A. degree. Thus, at least 30 hours of credits must be taken at ODU. If the transfer credits were taken while an undergraduate, none of the credits must have counted toward the fulfillment of any undergraduate degree requirements. All requests for approval of transfer graduate credits must be made in writing to the GPD who submits an Evaluation of Internal/External Transfer Credits to the ODU Registrar.
- C. A maximum of 6 hours of graduate-level credits may be taken in disciplines other than sociology, criminal justice, or women's studies and only with the approval of the GPD. Students must consult with the GPD before taking courses in another discipline.
- D. Of the 36 credit hours required for the M.A. degree, 15 hours must be used to satisfy the core course requirements: SOC 610 Applied Social Research Methods, SOC 620 Proseminar in Sociological Theory, SOC 630 Applied Social Statistics, SOC 640 Sociological Applications in Computer and Data Analysis, and SOC 650 Research Seminar.
- E. Students must register for 6 hours of thesis credit before defending their thesis. No student may register for thesis credits without the approval of the GPD. You may enroll for all six hours of thesis credits during your last semester. Students must present a thesis proposal to and have it approved by their thesis committee. Students must successfully write and orally defend a thesis.
- G. All course work must be completed with a cumulative GPA of at least a 3.0. Each of the core courses must be completed with a grade of B (3.0) or better.

THESIS COMMITTEE

A. After completion of 18 semester hours of graduate credits at ODU, students must select a thesis committee. One member of the committee will be designated as the chair and will then serve as the student's advisor in preparation of a master's thesis. The remainder of the thesis committee will provide assistance in formulating and writing the master's thesis. All members of the thesis committee must be Graduate Certified faculty. A list of graduate certified faculty may be obtained from the GPD. The thesis committee must be composed of no fewer than three and no more than five persons. The first three members of a thesis committee must be from the Sociology and Criminal Justice Department at ODU. Additional members of the thesis committee must be approved by the GPD and College Graduate Studies Committee.

B. Students must notify the ODU graduate program director of the selections for their thesis committees using the Thesis Advisory Committee form . The form needs to be turned into the ODU GPD to be put in the student's file. Changes in the thesis committee are permitted, but such changes must be made using the Request for Change in Thesis Advisory Committee form.

C. The thesis committee is responsible for guiding and evaluating the student's thesis proposal and thesis. No student can have a thesis proposal or thesis approved without having convened a committee. Students may not enroll for thesis credits until their thesis committee has been formed.

THESIS REQUIREMENTS

All students must enroll for a total of six hours of thesis credit and write a thesis. Students should consult with their thesis committee members when planning a thesis.

A. PROPOSAL - The first step in any thesis is to draft a thesis proposal. This generally takes place during the Research Seminar Course (SOC 650) in the fall of the student's second year. The thesis proposal must be submitted to members of the student's thesis committee at least two weeks before scheduling a meeting of the committee to consider the proposal. Students are expected to work closely with their thesis chair throughout the process.

B. PROPOSAL DEFENSE - Students must schedule a hearing with their thesis committee to gain approval of their proposals. The thesis committee must approve the proposal before thesis research can begin. Once a proposal has been approved, the student and thesis committee chairperson must notify the GPD and complete the Result of Master's Degree Examination or Requirement form. An approved proposal represents a contract between a student and their committee. If the prospectus is not approved unanimously, a second prospectus hearing must be scheduled.

C. HUMAN SUBJECTS APPROVAL - If a project involves data gathered on human subjects, students must check with the ODU GPD in order to obtain information about satisfying human subjects' review criteria. No research involving human subjects may begin until approval has been obtained. (Refer to the Manuscript Preparation Guide for further details.)

D. THESIS FORMAT - Students must follow the ODU Guide for Preparation of Theses and Dissertations and The College of Arts and Letters Thesis and Dissertation Format Requirements Guide; the MA Applied Sociology Guide uses the manuscript style of the American Sociological Association, the format found in articles published in the American Sociological Review. (Note: Some of the ASA style requirements conflict with those of ODU. If in doubt, consult with your thesis committee chair or the GPD. Usually, the ODU guidelines take precedent over ASA style. When using the ODU guidelines, the text takes precedent over illustrations.)

E. ORAL DEFENSE OF THESIS - Once a student has completed the thesis, a final oral defense must be scheduled. This examination will be open to the public and must be scheduled and advertised in the department at least two weeks prior to the defense. Announcement of the oral examination must be given to thesis committee members and the GPD. The Oral Defense of Thesis must be approved unanimously by the thesis committee members. The thesis chairperson must complete and submit to the GPD the Result of Master's Degree Examination or Requirement form.

F. SECOND ORAL DEFENSE - Students who fail their oral examination may schedule a second oral examination no sooner than three weeks following the first thesis defense. Any student failing a second thesis defense will be dropped from the program.

G. REVISIONS - Immediately following the examination, the chairperson of the thesis committee shall communicate the results to the student. In some cases, further revision of the thesis may be required by the committee. Students should submit the final draft of the thesis/dissertation to their advisor well before the end-of-semester deadline so that s/he can make a thorough check for the most common errors--margins, spacing, footnotes, and references. When the thesis has been corrected and formatted, the Thesis/Dissertation Acceptance and Processing form should be transmitted to the GPD, together with the thesis, for review and approval six weeks prior to the end of the semester. The College of Arts and Letters Dean's Office shall review the thesis for compliance with the general regulations on preparation and return it for correction if necessary. The student should not make final copies of the thesis until it has been reviewed and approved by the Dean's office.

H. PROCEDURES FOR SUBMITTING THESES TO DEAN'S OFFICE - It is the responsibility of the student and the thesis chairperson to make sure that the manuscript is submitted in a timely fashion and conforms to the requirements of the ODU Thesis/Dissertation Guide and the style manual used in the student's program. The thesis must be submitted to the Associate Dean's secretary by the GPD (not the student) four weeks prior to the last day of classes of the semester (exact dates are published on the Graduate Program Homepage). It should be printed on ordinary bond paper (not special thesis/dissertation paper); it should be clean, with no markings (any corrections requested by the GPD must be made before the document is submitted to the Dean's office) and it must be in compliance with all the style requirements. Students with questions that are not addressed in the thesis/dissertation Guide should contact, first, their chairperson, and second, the GPD. The thesis should be accompanied by a copy of the Result of Master's Degree Examination or Requirement form showing that the student has passed the defense. No other forms should accompany the thesis. The thesis/dissertation will be returned to the GPD as soon as possible and not less than two weeks prior to the last day of classes. Students MUST NOT call the Dean's office to ask when the thesis/dissertation will be ready. Once the checked thesis/dissertation has been returned, however, students may contact the GPD to discuss any changes and/or corrections that need to be made before the final copy is printed on the special thesis/dissertation paper.

1. In the Dean's office the thesis/dissertation will be checked for conformity with the most recent version of the ODU Guide for Preparation of Theses and Dissertations. Copies of these may be found on the Graduate Program Homepage. The thesis/dissertation must conform to the requirements of the university before it will be approved by the Dean's office.

2. In the Dean's office the following will be checked for conformity with the style manual required by the program:

- a. Citation of Sources (footnotes, endnotes, parenthetical references)
- b. References/Works Cited

3. In the Dean's office the following will be read:

- a. All preliminary pages
- b. Selected pages of text at random
- c. All footnotes
- d. References/Works Cited

If significant errors or a number of small errors are found, the thesis/dissertation will be returned immediately and the process will begin again. In such a case, the student's graduation date could be delayed. No later than one week prior to the last day of classes of the semester, the student will submit to the GPD a final, error free copy of the thesis, printed on the 100% bond thesis/dissertation paper. The GPD will submit the thesis/dissertation and the Thesis/Dissertation Acceptance and Processing form, complete except for the Dean's signature, to the Dean's office. No other forms should be submitted. The thesis/dissertation will be checked to make sure that all requested corrections have been made and will be returned to the GPD with the form, signed by the Dean.

I. COPIES OF THESIS - A final, approved, unbound, error-free original (on special paper -see Guidelines for Preparation of Theses and Dissertations) and four copies (at least 25% cotton rag paper) of the thesis must be received by the Registrar's Office no later than the day prior to the beginning of the final examination period; that is, the last day of classes of the semester in which the degree will be taken. Please note that the actual deadline dates appear on the Dean's Office website each semester. The completed document, approved by the dean, and copies should be accompanied by the following forms: Binding Fee Receipt, Thesis/Dissertation Acceptance and Processing, Result of Master's Degree Examination or Requirement, and Thesis/Dissertation Delivery. If the student wishes to have copies bound for themselves, they must make copies (25% cotton rag paper) and deliver them in addition to the required copies of the thesis to the registrar's office.

GRADUATION

In the semester before planned graduation, students must submit a Graduate Degree Application to the Registrar's Office at ODU. Students may participate in graduation ceremonies if they have completed ALL requirements AND if they have successfully DEFENDED their thesis by the day of the Commencement Ceremony.

VALIDATION OF COURSE CREDIT

Students who have completed course work taken more than six years ago and are seeking credit for previous classes are responsible for obtaining Validation for Out-of-Date Credit at ODU (Graduate Form 5). To do this, a student should consult with the GPD and faculty member who taught the class(es) and discuss how validation of credit will take place. The faculty member may decide that too much time has passed to validate the old course credit and the student must take the class over. Or the faculty member may choose to give the student a written exam, an oral exam, or require a research paper or project. If the faculty member who taught the class(es) is no longer on staff, then the student should submit the request for course validation to the GPD. The GPD, in consultation with the graduate committee, will forward the request for course validation to the appropriate faculty member. This faculty person along with the student may discuss how to validate old course credits. Students should request an appointment with the GPD to discuss the validation process.

GENERAL APPEALS PROCEDURES

A graduate student may initiate formal appeals proceedings on decisions that alter their program status. Procedures for appeal are as follows:

1. The student will consult with their program committee chair and then submit a letter of appeal within two weeks of the event in question. This letter must clearly state the grounds for the appeal (e.g., answer correctness, irregularities of procedure, extenuating circumstances, personal prejudice) and make a specific change request (e.g., nullify, reverse, or modify the decision).
2. The GPD will transmit copies of the letter to the department head, graduate committee, and the student's file.
3. The department chair will appoint a three-member ad hoc review committee consisting of faculty members not previously involved in the situation in question.
4. The ad hoc review committee will gather relevant information, interview the necessary people, and make a recommendation regarding the student's appeal and report to the department head as expeditiously as possible. The department chair will render the final decision.
5. The department chair's decision will be conveyed to the student in writing. Copies of the letter will be transmitted to the GPD, the student's thesis chair, graduate committee, and the student's file.

HONOR SOCIETIES

The Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice at ODU has chapters of Alpha Kappa Delta (The International Sociological Honor Society) and Alpha Phi Sigma (The National Criminal Justice Honor Society). The minimum eligibility requirements for both honor societies are as follows: (1) You must have been officially admitted to the program (cannot have provisional standing); (2) You must have completed 9 graduate hours in sociology; (3) You must have a 3.5 GPA or higher in graduate courses; and (4) you must be registered for the upcoming semester. The only exception is that Alpha Phi Sigma candidates must have indicated their intent to finish the Criminal Justice certificate to the GPD in writing prior to submitting their nomination. There will be a call for self-nominations at least once a year by the designated faculty advisor.

TUITION AND ASSISTANTSHIPS

Graduate tuition information is available at the ODU Office of Finance website <http://ww2.odu.edu/af/finance/>. Details about in-state residency can be found at the Office of the Registrar's website <http://ww2.odu.edu/ao/registrar/instate/index.shtml>. Students may enroll in the program on a full-time (9 credit hours per fall/spring semester) or part-time basis.

The Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice at ODU supports several graduate assistantship positions. Students must be full-time and registered for 9 credit hours to be eligible to receive assistantship support. To apply, submit an Application for Graduate Financial Assistance (available from the ODU Office of Admissions) to the GPD no later than February 15th. Please give a brief justification of why you wish to be considered.

In return for the financial support, graduate students work 20 hours per week for faculty. Assistants work from the beginning of each semester through exam week. Along with the faculty, they enjoy a break at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Break.

Funding is competitive, but we try to fund students who are in good standing for the full two-year period. All graduate assistants are evaluated at the end of each semester to assess whether or not the student is in good standing. To determine whether or not a student is in good standing the committee may consider the number of incompletes a student acquires, grade point average, and performance of assistantship duties. If the committee finds that a student is not in good standing, the GPD will not recommend continued funding in the department. Generally, continuing students with a B- or lower in a required course, students with Incompletes, or students with less than 3.00 GPA overall will not receive funding for the second year.

Students interested in other forms of financial aid such as loans or need-based work or payment plan study should contact the ODU Office of Student Financial Aid <http://ww2.odu.edu/af/finaid/>

FACULTY-GRADUATE ASSISTANT RELATIONSHIP

It is assumed that the relationship between faculty and graduate students is collegial in nature. As such, every effort should be made by the parties to accommodate one another's professional needs and work routines. Nonetheless, below are some guidelines to be followed in structuring the relationship between faculty and graduate students:

1. The primary purpose of an assistantship should be to attract and support good students who are committed to their development as social scientists and to the maintenance of a high quality educational program.
2. In meeting the needs of graduate students, an element of reciprocity should exist, in that the tasks performed by the graduate assistant should not be viewed as a source of cheap labor but as an apprenticeship period providing a learning experience.
3. All duties required of the graduate assistant by the professor, including but not limited to lecture attendance and so on, should count toward the hours associated with each assistantship.
4. A graduate assistant's preference for a professor or instructor will be given fair consideration provided the request is made in writing to the GPD prior to the placement.
5. Graduate assistants will be given access to services, facilities, and supplies for the performance of their graduate assistant duties. When a professor requires extra materials or special equipment, the department or professor will provide such materials.
6. Graduate assistant activities are under no circumstances to conflict with normal classes of the graduate student.

7. As a general policy, weekly hours that are not used by the professor cannot accumulate for later use except in unusual circumstances. Informal agreements between faculty and students are, of course, possible. Faculty members who are sharing a graduate assistant (e.g., 10 hours a week each) cannot exchange hours. In other words, students are only required to work their 10 hours with the assigned faculty member. If the faculty member does not have enough work for the student in a particular week, their hours will not be distributed to other faculty or accumulated for later use.

8. Graduate assistants may occasionally be asked by the GPD to help proctor exams or cover classes for out-of-town professors. The time spent doing this will be counted in the regular work week.

9. Graduate assistants work only when school is in session (including exam week). They do not work during semester break, spring break, or any holiday unless classes are being held.

ODU HONOR SYSTEM

The honor system at ODU is based on individual integrity. This system assumes that every student will accept his or her role in the University community with a feeling of self-respect and duty.

Lying, cheating, and plagiarizing all constitute violations of the Honor System. The Honor Pledge states:

"I pledge to support the Honor System of ODU. I will refrain from any form of academic dishonesty or deception, such as cheating or plagiarism. I am aware that as a member of the academic community it is my responsibility to turn in all suspected violators of the Honor Code. I will report to a hearing if summoned."

Since each student signs an Honor Pledge when registering for courses at the University, it follows that each piece of work submitted by a student must be his or her own work, or prepared under conditions specified by the faculty member in charge of the course. Suspected violations of the Honor Code may be reported to either the Honor Council or the Associate Vice President for Student Services.

UNIVERSITY POLICY STATEMENT

It is the policy of Old Dominion University to provide equal employment and education opportunities for all persons without regard to race, color, national origin, gender, age, veteran status, disability, political affiliation, or sexual orientation. An integral part of this policy is to administer recruiting, hiring, working conditions, benefits, and privileges of employment, compensation, training, opportunities for advancement including upgrades and promotion, transfer, and termination of employment including layoff and recall for all employees without discrimination because of race, color, religion, national origin, gender, age, veteran status, handicap, political affiliation, or sexual orientation.
