PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Monarch Magazine – President Hemphill called the Board members' attention to the latest edition of the Monarch Magazine highlighting the outstanding research and work of our world-class faculty, students and alumni. It was distributed nationally to the presidents and provosts of institutions of higher education and has garnered positive feedback. This tradition will continue as a way of sharing information about the University. He acknowledged the work of Assistant Vice President Giovanna Genard and the members of her team for their outstanding work in producing the magazine. The Rector commented that this has an impact on the U.S. News and World Report college rankings.

New Vice President for Administration & Finance – President Hemphill introduced Chad Reed who joined the University as the new Vice President for Administration & Finance on March 10. He said that Chad has a great understanding of the Commonwealth and the community and has hit the ground running.

Institute for Advanced Learning and Research – President Hemphill traveled to Danville on March 17 to visit the Institute of Advanced Learning and Research. He commented that it was inspiring to see what's happening at the Institute and the broader efforts to revitalize the region. He was joined by a colleague from Patrick Henry Community College and representatives of local business and industry to announce a first of its kind partnership to address workforce shortages in the Navy and defense contract industries. ODU's engineering technology program is well suited to start the first four-year bachelor's degree program in manufacturing engineering technology to address this need. He recognized the leadership of Provost Agho and Interim Dean of the College of Engineering & Technology Khan Iftekharuddin in launching this partnership.

Strategic Plan – The Strategic Plan Steering Committee met last week and accepted and approved reports from the Challenges & Opportunities and Mission, Vision & Core Values Subcommittees. He recognized September Sanderlin, Brian Payne and Velvet Grant for their leadership on these committees. The work of these two subcommittees have set the stage for the work of the other seven subcommittees over the coming months. The budget and writing teams will meet on April 6 and April 20, respectively. The process remains on track to bring a draft report to the Board in September, receive the Board's feedback between September and December, and request formal approval at the Board's December meeting for implementation in January 2023. It will then be updated twice a year with a public-facing website to share the University's progress and the Board will receive regular updates. A progress report will be published at the mid-point of the five-year plan.

Spring Football Game/Charity Bowl – The spring football game will be paired for the first time with the annual Priority Automotive Charity Bowl on Saturday, April 9. It will be a great opportunity to raise a lot of money for the charities it supports.
