Dear Colleagues

The university requires that each building have an emergency action plan (EAP). These plans outline fire evacuation routes, unique building hazards, and provide information about what to do in a variety of emergency situations.

The EAP for the Oceanography and Physical Sciences Building (OCNPS) has just been completed and is attached to this message. The EAPS for all buildings where COS departments and units have a presence are also attached.

Hardcopies of the OCNPS EAP can be found in red binders in the following rooms in Oceanography and Physical Sciences building:

1st floor

COSMIC Office
ONCPS 0100 - Classroom
ONCPS 0143 - Dean's Office

2nd floor

OCNPS 0200 - Classroom
ONCPS 2100 suite

3rd Floor

Physics Office
OCNPS 3100 Suite

4th Floor

OES Office

If you have questions about the OCNPS EAP or the EAP of any College of Sciences Building, please contact the Emergency Coordinator or Alternate Emergency Coordinator of that building.
