Eastern Virginia Medical Center Walking Tour

Jones Institute (H5) Named for the married couple Howard Jones, MD, and Georgeanna Jones, MD, who pioneered in vitro fertilization in the United States, the Jones Institute is where the first IVF baby in the U.S. was conceived in 1981. The institute continues to have an active research staff, along with a clinical practice. The building also houses staff members of Contraceptive Research and Development (CONRAD). CONRAD works with researchers worldwide to develop contraceptives and methods to prevent the spread of sexually transmitted diseases, particularly in developing countries. CONRAD is headquartered in Northern Virginia.

Lewis Hall and Medical Campus Bookstore (G4) Lewis Hall is used for basic science research and education purposes. Lewis Hall is also home to the anatomy lab, the CAST Center, and the Art Therapy studio, which is open 24/7. Drinks and snacks are available at the bookstore. You can also find the Hampton Roads Community Foundation Student Center, Student Affairs, Financial Aid, the Network Center for IT support, Roper and McCombs Auditoriums, study rooms, student mailboxes and lockers. Lewis Hall is named for philanthropists Sydney and Frances Lewis, who provided a key gift in support of the school.

Andrews Hall (F6) This building houses Student Health, Continuing Medical Education, the Glennan Center for Geriatrics and Gerontology, two clinical departments — Dermatology and Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation, as well as Development and Alumni Relations. It also houses the Lawrence J. Goldrich Institute for Integrated NeuroHealth, made possible through a $15 million gift from Lawrence and Janice Goldrich. The building is named for two physician brothers, Mason Andrews, MD, and William Andrews, MD, who were instrumental in establishing Eastern Virginia Medical School.

Waitzer Hall (E8) Named for a generous gift from The Leah and Richard Waitzer Foundation, this is the newest building on campus. It has two sections: the three-story podium and the tower. The podium holds the student-testing center, state-of-the-art classrooms, student common and study areas, and a student wellness center. The tower houses senior administration and school leadership, administrative offices such as Financial Services, Occupational Health, Graduate Medical Education, Marketing & Communications, and Human Resources, as well as a parking garage.

South Campus (B8, B9, C8) Located across Brambleton Avenue is an area known as South Campus. South Campus includes Materials Management, the Norfolk Public Health Department and Williams Hall, home of the Strelitz Diabetes Center and the school’s pediatric research unit.

Fort Norfolk Plaza (A7) This private office building is home to the Sleep Center.

Hofheimer Hall (D6) This is the principal clinical facility on campus, housing the practices of Family & Community Medicine, the Department of Medicine, OB/GYN, Maternal-Fetal Medicine, Surgery, Infectious Disease, Urogynecology, Psychiatry and the new Sentara-EVMS Comprehensive Sickle Cell Program. It is named for Henry Clay and Elise Hofheimer, early supporters of the school.

Sentara Norfolk General Hospital (D5) Macon & Joan Brock Virginia Health Sciences at Old Dominion University partners with several hospitals in the region, including Sentara Norfolk General Hospital, for resident training and clinical rotations. Sentara Norfolk General includes the region’s only Level 1 trauma center, which is staffed by EVMS Medical Group trauma surgeons. The hospital just completed a major expansion and modernization project.

Sentara Heart Hospital (C2) Sentara Heart Hospital consistently ranks among the nation’s top heart programs in U.S. News & World Report. As a dedicated heart hospital, it has 112 inpatient beds and 45 pre- and post-procedural rooms for outpatient heart procedures. Pulmonary and Critical Care fellows rotate through the Cardiac Intensive Care Unit.

Children’s Hospital of The King’s Daughters (F4) CHKD is a vital teaching affiliate of Macon & Joan Brock Virginia Health Sciences at Old Dominion University, and CHKD pediatricians make up the Pediatrics teaching faculty. CHKD houses the region’s only Level 1 pediatric trauma center and a children’s mental health hospital.

Brickell Medical Sciences Library (G4) Distinguishable by The Beazley Foundation Rotunda, Brickell Medical Sciences Library was named for former EVMS President Edward E. Brickell. The library is open and accessible to students 24/7, and it extends many services to the Hampton Roads community. The student computer lab is housed here.

Lester Hall and TowneBank Lawn (H3, G3) Lester Hall is named for former EVMS President Harry T. Lester, who retired in 2013. The building is home to the EVMS School of Health Professions, Leroy T. Canoles Jr. Cancer Research Center, Sentara Center for Healthcare Simulation and Immersive Learning, lab space and the standardized patient program.
