Integrated Behavioral Health Program Grant

Congratulations Dr. Johnson!

Dr. Kaprea Johnson and colleagues received a $1,920,000 four-year grant supported by the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA). Dr. Johnson's project focuses on Integrated Behavioral Health Care (IBH). The IBHC Measures Atlas defines integrated behavioral health care as, "The care a patient experiences as a result of a team of primary care and behavioral health clinicians, working together with patients and families, using a systematic and cost-effective approach to provide patient-centered care for a defined population."

Dr. Johnson explains, "The purpose of the project is to increase the number of behavioral health providers in Hampton Roads who are adequately prepared to provide quality, culturally-intelligent, behavioral health services in integrated care settings. Additionally, we want to build our students' capacity to engage in interprofessional collaborations and to effectively use telehealth strategies to provide care." The project focuses particularly on child and senior populations.

The program she and her team developed will fund counseling master's students as they complete their internship at an approved IBH site. Students accepted into this program are also required to enroll in a 3-credit Integrative Behavioral Health course to supplement their training and participate in a hands-on, interprofessional workshop at Eastern Virginia Medical School. Students will also participate in other various IBH-focused training opportunities. These students will receive a $10,000 stipend over the course of 6 months.

The IBH team consists of Dr. Kaprea Johnson (Project Director), Dr. Kimberly Adams Tufts, Dr. Gulsah Kemer, Dr. Christine Fowler, Dr. Jeffry Moe, Mr. Ajay Gupta, and Dr. Norou Diawara. In addition, Stephanie Smith-Durkin, a School Counseling master's student, is a graduate research assistant on the project.

Congratulations Faculty!

Congratulations to our New Associate Dean, Dr. Tammi Dice!

By Amy Kurfist

It is with great excitement that I share with you that Dr. Tammi Dice has been selected as our Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education. Dr. Dice came to Old Dominion University in 2005 after serving as an adjunct professor since 2001. She is currently a faculty member in our Counseling and Human Services Department serving as the Program Director for our Human Services undergraduate program. The Human Services program boasts almost 1000 undergraduate majors and is offered in an online and face to face delivery format. Dr. Dice has been in charge of our presentations to prospective students and their parents at all open houses and admitted student days for the past three years representing all programs and undergraduate majors in our college.

Dr. Dice serves as a member of the Undergraduate Curriculum Committee at the university level, the Undergraduate Continuance Committee also at the university level and she is a member of the Undergraduate Writing Programs Review Committee. Dr. Dice was a co-principal investigator for the CARE Now grant funded program offered to the students in the Norfolk Public Schools and the Hampton Public Schools. Dr. Dice is also currently serving as the President of her national professional organization the National Organization for Human Services.

Dr. Dice will fill the role of Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education following in the footsteps of Dr. Margaret Shaeffer. Dr. Shaeffer served as the Interim Associate Dean for the past two years and has been a tremendous asset to our college. Dr. Shaeffer's expertise in educator preparation and in her capacity of being in charge of our contract course process was highly valued by all. Please do take a moment to share your gratitude and appreciation for Dr. Shaeffer in this role.

Human Services Professor named to Board of Directors for the Virginia Certification Board (VCB)

By Amy Kurfist

of Counseling and Human Services in the Darden College of Education, was recently named one of five new members to the board of directors for the Virginia Certification Board (VCB). VCB is a private, non-profit corporation which offers voluntary credentialing to substance abuse and other behavioral health professionals. VCB is a member of the International Certification and Reciprocity Consortium (IC&RC), the global leader in the credentialing of prevention, addiction treatment and recovery professionals.

Winfield joined Old Dominion University in 2013, and she has accumulated over 10 years of experience as a behavioral health practitioner specializing in providing substance abuse and mental health services to individuals and families across the lifespan. Winfield's appointment to the board of directors for the VCB provides a national and international service platform in the addiction and mental health field across behavioral health disciplines.

According to Dr. Tim Grothaus, Counseling and Human Services department chair, "Dr. Winfield's addition to the Board of Directors of VCB provides excellent representation for our department as it relates directly to graduate and undergraduate program credentialing - an area of incredible pride for both myself and Dean Jane Bray. We are honored to have her represent our department and the college."

The Department of Counseling and Human Services has begun to develop addiction education leading to credentialing, exemplified by the certified alcohol and drug counselor (CADC) credential. Certified alcohol and drug counselors help clients overcome addiction to drugs, alcohol, or gambling, and the credential can be completed through coursework in the human services substance abuse track. To learn more about this credential and the many other undergraduate and graduate level offerings in the Department of Counseling and Human Services, please visit <http://odu.edu/chs>.

Dr. Emily Goodman-Scott Receives Counseling Award at National Conference

By Amy Kurfist

On October 6, 2017, Dr. Emily Goodman-Scott, assistant professor and school counseling coordinator in the Department of Counseling and Human Services in the Darden College of Education, received the Southern Association for Counselor Education and Supervision (SACES) Outstanding Pre-Tenure Counselor Educator Award. The award was presented to Goodman-Scott at the SACES Business Meeting awards ceremony held during the 2017 national ACES Annual Conference in Chicago, IL. She was among one of five in the nation to receive this prestigious award which recognizes individual faculty members displaying exceptional progress in the early stages of their academic career in regards to their research, teaching, and service/leadership.

Goodman-Scott joined the Darden College of Education in January 2014, and has published, presented, and written grants in the areas of school counselors' role in positive behavioral interventions and support; school counselor preparation trends; and counseling youth with disabilities while also teaching graduate-level counseling courses. She received the ODU Shining Star Teaching Award in spring 2015, fall 2015, and spring 2016 recognizing her dedication, hard work, and attention to her students. Her leadership and service roles have included board memberships for The Association for Child and Adolescent Counseling (ACAC) and The International Association of Addictions and Offender Counselors (IAAOC) and the Virginia School Counselor Association.

With the support of dean Jane S. Bray, Goodman-Scott was nominated for the award by Dr. Danica G Hays, professor and executive associate dean, UNLV, and Dr. Tim Grothaus, associate professor and chair of the Darden College of Education Department of Counseling and Human Services. According to Grothaus, "Dr. Goodman-Scott consistently demonstrates outstanding achievement in academic domains through remarkable effectiveness, dedication and integrity. We couldn't be more proud of her for receiving this award and representing the entire Department of Counseling and Human Services here at the Darden College of Education."

Dr. Chris Sink and the International Society for Policy Research and Evaluation in School-Based Counseling

Dr. Christopher Sink is a founding member and on the executive leadership team of a newly formed professional counseling organization called the International Society for Policy Research and Evaluation in School-Based Counseling. ISPRESC is a society of university-based researchers, counselor educators, school-based counseling administrators, school leaders, graduate students, educational policy-makers and educational policy advocates. The organization's aim is to promote the development, wellbeing and rights of children and youth to a high quality education worldwide through the assurance of their access to high quality school-based counseling services. ISPRESC is a democratic organization that operates by the consensus of its members and is committed to advancing the human rights of all children regardless of race, sexual orientation, class, nationality, ethnicity, age, disability, or spiritual/religious orientation. If you are interested in joining, there is currently no fee.

Please go to <https://qshimunoz.wixsite.com/ispreesc/membership> or https://usd.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV\_5vVpdkrIgCDltxb. Moreover, ISPRESC will meet annually in conjunction with an International or National Counseling Association conference. The first annual meeting will be held in conjunction with the International Association for Counseling (IAC) Conference in Rome Italy, September 21st-23rd, 2018. In addition to ISPRESC events, ISPRESC will lead a roundtable at the IAC conference. ISPRESC members are invited to submit conference proposals to IAC.

Dr. Sink is also serving as the inaugural editor of the Society's peer-reviewed journal: Journal of School-Based Counseling Policy and Evaluation. Contact Dr. Sink (csink@odu.edu) if you are interesting contributing a manuscript to the journal.

“Stick It to a Professor” Fundraiser

Organized by Jarid Reedy
November 17, 2017

HMSV 441 students taped their favorite teacher, Mr. Frank Scaringello, to ODU's Maglev— otherwise known as the monorail— as part of their class fundraising project. The students raised over $140 in only a few hours and donated the proceeds to a non-profit organization, the American Suicide Prevention Society.

Welcome New Human Services Faculty, Dr. Kristy Carlisle

Kristy Carlisle Ph.D., NCC, LPC-R (VA)

Dr. Kristy L. Carlisle is an Assistant Professor of Human Services in the Counseling and Human Services Department. She earned a Ph.D. in Counselor Education and Supervision from Old Dominion University, an M.A. in Counseling Services from Rider University, an M.A. in French from Middlebury College, and a B.A. in French and International Studies from Middlebury College. She is a nationally certified counselor (NCC), a licensed school counselor in New Jersey and Virginia, and an LPC resident in Virginia. She will sit for the Human Services Board Certified Professional (HS-BCP) exam in October.

Dr. Carlisle has work experience as a PK-12 teacher, school counselor, therapist, case manager, and clinical supervisor. She has served child, adolescent, and adult populations in school, inpatient residential, and community mental health settings. Her research interests include process addictions, namely Internet addiction and Internet gaming disorder, counseling children and adolescents with a trauma-informed approach, multi-culturally aware trauma-informed care, and ethical helping behavior.

She enjoys running, kayaking, dancing, and above all time with friends and family.

Welcome New Human Services Faculty, Jamie Hartsfield

Jamie Hartsfield, M. Ed., LPC

Jamie has had several years of experience in the field of Counseling and Human Services. She is a Licensed Professional Counselor (LPC) in Suffolk, Virginia and has experience working with individuals (including adolescents), couples, and families. A native Texan, Jamie studied Psychology at Texas A&M University and then moved to Virginia in 2003. She earned her degree in Marriage & Family Counseling at the College of William and Mary.

For the past 11 years, Jamie has worked in a variety of settings in the counseling and human services field with people facing a myriad of challenges- from providing in-home counseling with struggling families to training and supporting foster parents as they took on the challenges of adding a child into their home.

She began educating future human service professionals at Old Dominion University in 2010, and starting seeing clients in private practice shortly thereafter. After adjuncting for several years, Jamie is excited to move into the role of Lecturer of Counseling and Human Services Education at ODU. Jamie is also serving NOHS as the VP for Public Relations. Her professional areas of interests include families, adolescents, identifying and developing meaning, overcoming shame, and healing from the effects of trauma.

Jamie loves spending time with her family and friends, being outside and active, watching baseball games, and reading.

Welcome New Human Services Faculty, Jennifer Simmons

Jennifer M. Simmons, M.S.

Jennifer Simmons is a Lecturer in the Department of Counseling and Human Services at Old Dominion University. Following the needs of the Navy, Jennifer, her husband and children have called 8 states home over the past fifteen years. She received her Masters of Science in Psychology from Nova Southeastern University in Fort Lauderdale, Florida and her Bachelors of Arts in Psychology from The University of North Florida in Jacksonville, Florida. Ms. Simmons has over a decade of experience in the field of Human Services, including holding two program director positions in both Rehabilitation Counseling and Vocational Rehabilitation. Her professional strengths stem from her experience in advocating, leadership, guidance and education as well as extensive grant writing and management.

Welcome New Doctoral Students!

Abie Tremblay is a first-year Ph.D. student and graduate research/teaching assistant in the Department of Counseling and Human Services. Abie's careers include the U.S. Navy, Office Manager in Chesapeake Montessori School, and Virginia Department of Corrections. Abie earned an Associate of Science with a concentration in Laboratory Sciences from George Washington University in Washington, DC; a Bachelor in Business Administration from National University in San Diego, CA; a Bachelor of Science with and concentration in Psychology from Old Dominion University; and most recently, a Master of Science in Education with a concentration in Mental Health Counseling from Old Dominion University. Abie's research areas of interest include complementary and integrative therapies, incarcerated persons, and group therapy. The two Tremblay cats and two Tremblay dogs live with Abie and her family in Chesapeake, and they all enjoy hosting international exchange students each year.

Welcome New Doctoral Students!

My name is Ne'Shaun J. Borden. I am from Jacksonville, Florida. I studied Family and Child Sciences as an undergrad at Florida State University. I taught elementary school for two years before returning to school. I received my masters in CMHC from the University of North Florida. My clinical experience has been with college students, children and adolescents. Although I loved working with children, I am looking forward to returning to a college counseling setting. My research interest include first generation college students, college counseling, and complex trauma. I enjoy travel, spending time with family, and binge watching Netflix.

Robert “Tony” Dice MEd, CSAC

Oldest of eight brothers and sisters (Home schooled); Kayak instructor/Raft guild (Bigfoot Recreation); Slavic Dancer (Detva Dance Team); Firefighter (Klamath River Fire Department); Medic (Northern Siskiyou Ambulance); SEAL (U.S. Navy); Presidential Security Detail Team Lead (U.S. State Dept/ DynCorp); Head of Security/Logistics (Seismic Sciences); Iraqi Special Forces Instructor (U.S. State Dept/USIS); VBSS Team Lead Instructor (Linxx Global); Tweeker (Semi-pro, 7years AA/NA); Intern (Seton House, Lynnhaven Treatment Center, Virginia Beach Psychiatric Center); Therapist (The Farley Center); Undergraduate in Human Services and a Master's in Counseling (Old Dominion University) Currently, I'm a 1st year doctoral student holding a GA position as a Mental Health Director at EVMS's Ambulatory Care Center. My focuses are Substance Abuse, LGBTQAP and PTSD. I'm here to help.

Welcome New Doctoral Students!

Frankie Rivas. I am a second generation Hispanic female who spent the first 16 years of my life in the suburbs of the Twin Cities in Minnesota. In High School, I moved to the area of South Texas known as the Rio Grande Valley (or simply "the valley/el valle"), which is where my dad is from. The University of Texas at San Antonio is where I earned my Bachelors of Arts in Psychology with a minor in Anthropology. Upon graduation, I immediately went on to pursue my Masters of Science in Counseling with a concentration in Clinical Mental Health from Texas A&M University – Corpus Christi. Here I gained experience working with college students; victims and survivors of domestic abuse, homicide, sexual assault; and individuals who were in a hospital inpatient setting. With such a wide array of experience, I really fell in love with working with trauma and crisis counseling. My research interests lie in the area of trauma, post traumatic growth, and the military and veteran population. On the more personal side, I have been in Virginia since August 1st, and loving this state and ODU. My life currently revolves around school and my dog Darja, Ret. CWD, ODD.

Rawn Boulden is a first year Ph.D. student in the Counselor Education and Supervision program at Old Dominion University. A Virginia native, Rawn earned his bachelor's degree in Human Services from ODU and his master's degree in School Counseling from the University of Maryland. While at Maryland, Rawn served as a graduate assistant teaching undergraduate courses and providing support to first generation first-year students of color. Rawn is the past graduate student representative for the Maryland School Counselor Association and presently serves as the Graduate Student Vice President--Elect for the Virginia School Counselor Association. More recently, he assumed the role of Graduate Student Representative for the Virginia Alliance for School Counseling. Rawn serves as a graduate assistant for the Department of Counseling and Human Services, co-teaching human services courses and assisting with online courses. Rawn is excited for this next chapter and looks forward to developing his skill set to become a leader in the counseling field.

Welcome New Doctoral Students!

Kyulee Park, M.Ed.

I'm originally from Seoul, Korea. I moved to central Utah when I was fifteen years old to pursue education in the U.S. I graduated from the College of William & Mary in Williamsburg, VA with B.A. in Psychology and Interdisciplinary Studies (Concentration in Gender, Sexuality, & Women's Studies) as well as M.Ed. in Couples, Marriage, & Family Counseling. I have experiences in working with children and adolescents in mental health crisis in an acute care residential setting. I also interned as a family counselor, providing family counseling services through the New Horizons Family Counseling Center for families in the Hampton Roads area. Areas of my research interest include: social justice, multicultural counseling and supervision, and ethical and legal issues in the use of technology in counseling. I hope to obtain LPC and LMFT licenses in the near future, and to pursue teaching and continue research upon graduation.

Betsy Zimmerman.

I am originally from Richmond, VA, but I am currently living in Portsmouth, VA. ## Study Abroad in Italy!

Imagine living in a 400-year-old villa in the hills of Tuscany, Italy—eating organically grown, local foods prepared and served in the traditional Italian style and walking the same streets of old Roman and Medieval cities that Michelangelo, DaVinci, Dante, and other great artists of the Renaissance walked. This trip is a complete cultural immersion within the rich history of Italy. Shopping in markets almost 2,000 years old, but filled with the latest Italian fashions and designers, like Ferragamo, Versace, Gucci, and Prada. Taking a break to taste the espresso and gelato in shops older than our nation. This exciting mix of new and old is what a group of undergraduate and graduate students experienced this past summer. In addition, students engaged in presentations by local Italian professionals in the helping fields, olive oil and wine tastings, gatherings together to observe the sunset from the mountains, and discussions with each other on a myriad of topics.

The next trip is scheduled from July 5-16, 2018. Students may take HMSV 344/495 and COUN 648/695/895.

For more details, please contact Frank Scaringello fscaring@odu.edu or the Office of Study Abroad.

COUN 678 NYC Study Away Trip

By Melanie Burgess

I was fortunate enough to co-teach COUN 678 during Summer 2017, which involved attending a five-day Cultural Competence Institute at the New York Institute of Technology in New York City. This institute, originating in 2008, was initially geared towards preparing school counselors to work with diverse K-12 student populations. The institute has since broadened to include mental health counselors working with children and adolescents. The institute itself is packed with relevant training sessions, diverse panelists, museum visits, various religious sites, and neighborhood walks throughout the city itself. Students learned from and engaged with people from a variety of different racial, ethnic, religious and other minority backgrounds, including individuals who identified as Islamic, Christian, Orthodox Jewish, Abyssian Baptist, Latino/a, Black/African American, Asian American, first generation college students, newly immigrated high school students, and members of LGTQ+ communities.

Aside from these powerful events, I appreciated the flexible time available after our institute each day. Our group used this time to de-brief and process each day with our class as well as explore the city. During de-briefings, I was impressed and encouraged hearing students and faculty share their perspectives and the ways they can infuse multicultural aspects of this institute with their current and future work as counselors, supervisors, researchers, educators, and advocates. I was also thrilled to use our free time to explore all the NYC had to offer, with students visiting the Statue of Liberty, spending time in Central park, touring the 9/11 museum, catching a show on Broadway, or searching for the best New York-style pizza. Looking back on this trip, I appreciate that this was one of the best (and least expensive) ways to spend five nights in a Times Square hotel, increasing my cultural competence, touring the city, and all the while achieving credit for an ODU counseling course. Since this class is required for school counseling students, and can serve as an elective for mental health counseling students, why not decide to take it in Summer 2018 and find out all that New York City has to offer!

For more information, please contact Dr. Emily Goodman-Scott at egscott@odu.edu

“The most meaningful activities of the week in New York City were the panels. While I enjoyed the neighborhood walks, loved the food and appreciated all the cultural activities (9/11 museum, Broadway play), the learning for me came from listening to people.”

ACES Conference, October 2017 Chicago, IL

This past October, faculty and students from ODU's Department of Counseling and Human Services traveled to Chicago, IL to present at the Association for Counselor Education and Supervision (ACES) National Conference. ODU master's and doctoral alums gathered at an ODU reception to make and renew friendships and professional connections.

Alumni Spotlights at ACES

Congratulations to one of our alumni, Dr. Madeline Clark, on receiving NCACES Outstanding Diversity Award! Way to go Dr. Clark!

We are thrilled to announce an achievement of another our very own alumni, Dr. Robert Carlisle (2015), for receiving the Outstanding Article Award at the 2017 ACES Conference in Chicago! Dr. Carlisle and his colleagues article is based on his doctoral dissertation study.

Chi Sigma Iota, Omega Delta Homecoming Tailgate

We had a great time showing off our school spirit at the ODU Homecoming tailgate! CSI welcomed counseling students and their friends and families for food, fun, and football.

Student Spotlights

CSI Award Winners!

Stephanie Smith-Durkin, Outstanding Master's Student

Anthony Vadja, Outstanding Doctoral Student

Anthony Vadja, Outstanding Doctoral Mentor

Kendall Sparks, Outstanding Practitioner Award

Vanessa O'Hare, Outstanding Research Award

T'Airra Belcher, Outstanding Service to Chapter

Our very own Melanie Burgess represents the CHS Department and ODU as she reaches the peak of Mount Kilimanjaro at 19,341 feet!

“After a year of preparation and training, I spent eight days hiking to the top of Mount Kilimanjaro in Tanzania, Africa. Nearly everyone in our hiking group had altitude sickness ranging from mild to moderate; however, this being the fourth tallest mountain in the world at 20,000 feet above sea level, we all anticipated symptoms as we ascended.” - Melanie
