

FWS 2017-2018 Travel Award Information

Fellowship of Women in Science Conference Travel Award

- Available to both graduate and undergraduate students
- Apply for up to $500 to cover registration, travel, poster printing, and hotel costs associated with attendance at a scientific conference
- Since this award is new, we are only offering it for conferences that occur during the Spring semester 2018; in future years it will be available for both the fall and spring semesters
- Fill out the application to apply; make sure to attach your abstract and supporting documentation for any funds requested
- Participation in FWS events will be required to be eligible for an award; the more active you are in the organization, the more competitive you will be for the award
- Applying for this award does not guarantee that you will receive the award; the number of awards given and the amount of money awarded to each person will be decided by the FWS executive committee and announced at the end-of-fall-semester party
- As a requirement of receiving this award, you must submit to FWS a photo of yourself with someone you met at the conference and a paragraph describing how you benefited from attending the conference; by applying you give FWS permission to use these materials on our website, Facebook page, and other locations
